Hi,

I don't know if you know, but the Australia National Intentional Communities List moved to a new server OneList, since you were on the old list, I've transferred you over to the new list, you should get a message from the list welcoming you.

Sorry if you knew about the change, and didn't want to be on the list, the welcome list should have unsubscribe instructions, or just email me and I'll remove you immediately.

The ONElist Team

At the demo the other day two people volunteered to letter drop in the neighbourhood:

Becky 66809525

When you have the other side of the 'how to write sheet' done perhaps they could help with any letterbox drop.

Also a few people did not receive your email with the one sided letter writing page in it eg at least Peter, David Wick - could you send it again perhaps.

At the end of this email is a note I sent people yesterday.

Thanks.

Garth

Hi everyone,

This is just a short note to keep you up to date with the campaign so far. Could you please send me a reply to let me know if you received it as some people evidently missed John's first email.

- 1) The signs Moira made for the track have done a good job in recruiting and informing people - unfortunately the top one was taken on Tuesday night. Many clearly were unaware until now about the Detala property.
- 2) A number of people have rung Peter to offer help as a result of the signs and more than 25 people came to the helicopter visit on the Wednesday the 16th. Each of these people took John and Christine's letter writing sheet away with them.

29/06/99

3) The helicopter visit seemed to get the Minister's attention. They stayed a few minutes hovering over us and left with a wave. Peter and others had done a great job with the poles and flags and the borders of the development were very clear. The Echo was also there.

4) A couple of the local people who attended have volunteered to letter box the letter writing leaflet in the next few days.
This should be possible as soon as John finishes page 2.

5) For information on what Detala is proposing contact Peter. He is talking to environmental engineers to gain their views. Peter has also written to DLWC to say that we will be making a detailed response.

6) DLWC are saying that the road reserve above the site will be closed pending National Park's decision to take it over. Nat Parks are saying they are waiting on DLWC. Peter is going to get them talking together!

7) THIS SUNDAY FROM 9 - 12 THERE WILL BE A TREE PLANTING ORGANISED BY GREEN AND CLEAN ON TOP OF PATERSON ST HILLTOP (ERIC WRIGHT LOOKOUT). THIS WOULD BE A GOOD CHANCE TO TALK TO THE OTHER LOCALS WHO ARE LIKELY TO ATTEND. IF YOU CAN'T MAKE IT IN THE MORNING, THE GROUP WILL BE HAVING LUNCH FROM 12 AT THE BBQ AREA BEHIND CLARKE'S BEACH CAFE - CARNIVORES AND VEGOS ARE WELCOME - AND FREE!

Take care,

Garth

Dearest peter, Denise and leah

Thanks for the communication. I'm busy writing lots. Have almost got a first draft of one workshop module. It's taken a long time writing the most difficult module first. But I feel I'm beginning to understand acupuncture and Chinese medicine. Hopefully it will all come to a satisfactory conclusion by the end of this week. And then I can move on to the next module. The numerologist warned me not to launch myself too early. And I'm heeding the words. I'm trying to write out all the things I think I should know. And I'm reading all the books I should have read.

Leah what programmes do you have on your computer. I want to send you the palm pilot. It needs outlook a programme on microsoft.

Can't say when I'll be next in Byron. I'm hoping to do a colourpuncture course with a woman in Mullumbimby but she doesn't get back from Germany till the 7th July. The course is either the end of July or August. Bui I'd be delighted to come for Leah's graduation.

There is an action in Lismore in support of East Timor and the former Yugoslavia.

Please read below the media release.

If you would like to support by staffing the stall for this Friday or Saturday please contact annie on : annieb@om.com.au (Annie Bolitho) or phone (02)66886479

MEDIA RELEASE

A remembering place

Events in the former Yugoslavia and Timor have affected many people living in this area. We have seen terrible injury to people in towns, villages and countryside. Northern Rivers people have already contributed to relief efforts with money and blankets.

"We have also seen serious injury to understandings of what it means to be human," said spokesperson for Interhelp, Annie Bolitho. In this sense these stories have changed the world. From the TV and print media we know exactly what is happening, yet we seem to have no choice but to accept what is going on."

The Remembering Place will be set up at Lismore Central from Thursday 20st to Saturday 22th May. It is a reminder that our web of interconnection is not just the computer world wide web but an interrelationship of people.

Everyone is invited to bring flowers, poems, pieces of writing and other tributes to the people of the former Yugoslavia and Timor. The combined expression of our region's feelings about these situations will be documented and sent to national leaders and NATO heads. There will also be an opportunity to send off letters to NATO leaders and the Department of Foreign Affairs - aerograms will be available on the spot.

Interhelp Inc. is based at the Channon. It is an umbrella group which supports and organised a range of activities including Heart Politics conferences, bringing guest speakers on social change to Australia and assisting social activists in their work.

Subject: 'Womens Web of Life' Workshop in Maleny, Qld

Dear friends,

Just want to let you know about a new workshop which you or your women friends might be interested in... This one's in Maleny, Queensland, and will be facilitated by myself, Robin Clayfield and Tracy Adams.

The workshop will be similar (but definitely not-identical!) to the 'Women, Work and The Earth' which Ruth Rosenhek and I facilitated last November at the Forest Meditation Centre in Northern NSW.

Ooooh I'm looking forward to some winter warming, nurturing and inspiration and I hope you will join us.

Earth Love,

Eshana

(P.S. Please forward this email to anyone else who may be interested.)

WOMEN'S WEB OF LIFE
A Deep Ecology Workshop & Retreat

Friday 18th - Sunday 20th June 1999, in the Maleny area

A weekend gathering of women ... to renew our connection with the Earth, and to explore how we can bring this connection into our work and personal lives.

25/05/99

"I imagine that future generations will look back on this period and call it the 'Great Turning'. They will look back with tremendous compassion and gratitude." Joanna Macy, deep ecologist and Buddhist scholar.

The broad purpose of this gathering is to uncover our deepest motivations to take part in the healing of our world - of our greater Self - and help each other find the courage, commitment and community we need to play our unique part in the Great Turning.

We will explore the THEMES of

- * passion, rest and valuing ourselves
 - * the particular roles we play as women
 - * winter as a seasonal aspect of our inner lives
- using circle sharing, emotional release, meditation, sensory awareness and creative expression.

Together we will create a warm, relaxed and supportive environment in which we can share deeply and reconnect with the deepest parts of ourselves.

Subject: Association Name

OK..... I'm hoping that everyone on the list is checking their E-mail regularly.... its been very quiet....
However here is a topic for discussion.. the association name.

We need to make a decision on this one within a week or so because I'd really like to get the introductory web site up so that we can start discussing it's development more intensively.

The name / address of the web site would preferably reflect the name of the organisation.....

At the moment a suggested address can be:

oceania.ecovillages.org/intentional_community

OR MAYBE

oceania.ecovillages.org/ic_movement_aust

The oceania.ecovillages.org is the Global Ecovillage Network domain.. GEN has offered to host the site for the time being..

Other than a thankyou to GEN our site will be treated as a totally autonomous entity.

I think it was Ed that wrote:

On the subject of the name of the Association - ANICA. Sounds cute and is very close to anarchy which is close to my heart but to have Australian and National at the beginning of our title is a bit bureaucratic.

I do not agree

What about ICMA - Intentional Community Movement - Australia.

Simon wrote:

Subject: CLAN is buying land for all...

Buying land in December for all

Hello everyone!

Hi there, its Eric here from CLAN. Well, the time has come & I thought you may want to hear the latest from CLAN...

CLAN is buying land at the end of December (target date not specified yet) & it will be 2 things: first CLAN land bought under CLAN arrangements (noone owns the land & it is kept in perpetuity) & as a "Showcase Sustainable land for all". At our next meeting we plan on deciding: Where the property will be; how many acres; what we shall do on it; jobs to do in order to manifest it to reality. Any of the following will happen on the land:

* Permaculture farms * Bio-dynamics * Animal refuges * Alternative schools * Rainbow Power Co * Spiritual or Rainbow retreat * Tribal Lands Council land * Juggling or circus performance areas * Social or env activist communities * Communes * Intentional communities * Eco-villages

* Alternative health retreats * Indigenous lands, cultural centres, language spaces... * Disabled people rehab areas * Camping * Saving the bush * Bush regen * Hemp * Organic farming * Yoga centres * Schools for the blind...

We are fundraising it all, through philanthropy, personal donations from those who like this kind of project, local fundraisers as well as connecting with anyone who love all of the above & we also may initiate the '$1000/300 people buys land' idea.

NEXT MEETING: At 7pm at 306 Smith Street Collingwood on Tues 25/5 to nut out details & jobs. Come if you're in Melbourne, send this on your email trees & get the word around, particularly if you have Melbourne people on line. If not, EMAIL ME.... & tell me if you would like to help out in your part of the world, especially how CLAN can help you obtain your land dreams. You have a part to play.

This could get very big. It is only the beginning too! The first of many.

Say a yay today!

Subject: WA Communities Conference

Hi,

I understand from Robert Tap that this is the site for Intentional Communities discussion. Well, here's a report on the 1st IC conference in WA:-

INTENTIONAL COMMUNITIES CONFERENCE, WA.

February 25 to March 1, 1999

The conference, the first of its kind in WA, was held at Tone River, a former mill town which is now a Dept of Sport & Recreation Camp near Manjimup, Western Australia.

Initiated by John Croft and organised, over several months, by Gaia Foundation volunteers, this conference was rated by all participants as a great success.

Despite hot and humid weather, about a hundred people gathered for the long weekend. As we arrived, we were allocated to specific cottages, each of which housed 8-10 people who shared food and cooking. The whole group gathered for the plenary sessions in the well equipped hall.

Workshops were run concurrently with each other, but all were repeated so that any one person could get to most of them. Workshop venues ranged from a cottage to a shady tree or even the nearby swimming hole in the Tone River.

At our first combined gathering, we individually told a bit of our backgrounds and expressed what we hoped to gain from the conference. The few who came from existing communities were, of course, valuable as resource persons, but they were also there to gather new ideas and inspiration. The vast majority of those attending, however, came from all sorts of backgrounds, mostly urban, and hoped to learn about community, to join with others to form communities or to share their own land with others. Some had lived in communities previously and were keen to join again.

John Croft set the tone of our thinking with an excellent, illustrated talk on the general history and characteristics of authentic community. Space does not permit a full coverage of John's talk but the gist of it was that by establishing sustainable communities today, people are empowering themselves to meet the very real challenges of possible environmental and social collapse due to our species having over-exploited the earth's resources. He saw, as a matter of urgency, the formation of sustainable communities ranging from the usual small rural and urban communities to developing whole towns as integrated, sustainable communities.

Those already living in intentional communities had ample opportunity to give details of their communities' philosophy, social life, organization, finances and legal structures, while those endeavouring to start communities were presented with a wide range of practical possibilities from which to choose.

The weather was extremely hot and humid during the whole conference so that, on the day that John Croft was to present his workshop on problems that might arise from computer breakdowns in the Year 2000, he announced that the venue was moved to the river. When someone asked him, "Do you mean, at the swimming hole?" John answered, "No, I mean in the swimming hole!". True to his word, he led us down to the pool where we all stripped off and revelled in the coolness of the large pool. In these very unusual but delightful circumstances, John delivered his very detailed address on Y2K while standing in the water with the rest of us draped along the river bank and taking occasional quiet dip. John stressed that Y2K is a "wake up call". Business cycles that used to occur every seven years are now only three and a half years apart; the El Niño effect was once every nine years but now it comes around each four years. Human society is thus very finely balanced and chaos could result if the world's computers are not made Y2K compliant by the end of this year. Intentional rural and urban communities are the way to go, but we need to hurry. He suggested the following points for action:-

1. Get to know your neighbours really well, and build community everywhere.
2. Look at your own groups and intentional communities to set up fail-safe systems in case society's usual complex systems break down.
3. Become social innovators - become creative in ways we haven't yet thought of - build up and share skills in our communities - become LETS dependent.

In the early mornings and evenings of the conference we participated in community-building songs and circle dances and, for our last evening meal, we took the tables and chairs from our cottages and set them around on the lawn in a large circle for a wonderful shared buffet meal under a full moon.

During those few days of the conference we all felt that a real feeling of community had developed among us, with a happy reminder for three participants, Ian and Enid Conochie and Tim Lang, of the Dharmananda Gathering which they had also attended.

An important result was that specific meetings were planned to bring together those with land and those wanting to move onto land. It seems that new groups may well result from this.

Best wishes
Enid and Ian Conochie

Subject: Re: Byron Council proposal to ammend their LEP to permit "conversion" of MO to CT

Hi Peter

Time is still a precious thing for me and after thinking about putting a submission in I have decided that this issue in Byron about Community Title doesn't warrent enough urgency, purely for me, to spend my time on. There is also the point - i think you made to me - that it could be to expensive anyway. The other point is that i think if people want to go ahead with changing to CT then it isn't all that bad anyway.

Thanks for keeping me informed - please keep sending me info - i am interested.

All the best for the silly season.

Russell

To the Community Conference crew

The Website of Community Lands Access Network Inc. (CLAN) is online! We would love to link to your websites (or websites of people you know) & vice-versa. Interested? Email me on <fp@wild.net.au>. CLAN wishes to work alongside NICA when it is up & running - for now, here's a recap of CLAN...

<< Community Lands Access Network Inc. (CLAN), is a new non-profit association & environment group set up to network individuals & groups interested in investing or living sustainably on the land - a network of resources for present & future communities.

We help connect environmentally-conscious people with land. Plans to offer services & have our databases up & running by early-1999. This means contacting everyone from 'Australian Bush Heritage Fund' to real estate agents.

WHAT IS CLAN PLANNING TO OFFER?

- * RESOURCE SPACE: Books, magazines, articles, surveys on all essential subjects (eg Bush Regen, Facilitation, Solar Housing$)
- * INTERNET: Website with links to similar networks & nationwide communication
- * LAND NETWORK: Needs of individuals matched to communities, properties or other land hunters
- * LAND PURCHASING: In return for services, CLAN accepts barter, LETS credits, work &/or other energies including money

If someone wants to set up:

Alternative Schools * Co-operative Businesses * Communities * Conservation & Wildlife Reserves / Regenerated Bushland * Eco-villages * Health & Spiritual Sanctuaries * Organic/Permaculture Farms$__$__$__$__$__$__$__$__$CLAN wants to help out >>

WHAT IS CLAN?

CLAN has been moving in preliminary stages since March 1998 as it helped with some of the paperwork for the Tribal Lands 1000 people/$300 idea.

29/03/99

Since then we have branched out into a network/resource centre for ANY groups wishing to live on the land in an ecologically & socially responsible way.

WHO'S INVOLVED?: Eric Vigo - office work, organising & ideas formation; Tom Armstrong - providing support & contacts; Lee Giddens - working on Information Guides & literature + many others who have been interested in the last year & those who have volunteered in the last few weeks. We also trade with people in local LETS systems.

FUTURE PLANS: Library & Resource Space development, Tax Deductibility, database formation, land scouting, fundraisings, networking people & groups with plans & projects, interstate offices & country representation & close partnerships with community networks, Indigenous & conservation groups, & green business. Evolving.

OFFICE SPACE

CLAN has a space to do its thing! I've secured a desk space at a new artist/activist/ spiritual community space that has started up:

306 Smith Street Collingwood VIC 3065

The office opened on the 15th March 1999.

Come around & check the new premises out, give some help or just come & ask questions.

Tram: No.86 Bundoora RMIT from Bourke Street. Get off at the corner of Johnson & Smith Street & walk towards the City. We are 4 shops down from Friends of the Earth

LAND SCOUTING

The Rainbow Gathering Tribe is looking for land for 2 gathering sites:

- A gathering around July (any state) - approx. 250 people
- A site for the 2000 International Rainbow Gathering - approx. 10-15,000 people

Scouters for land, & property owners are both needed.

Contact CLAN on this email, or email <rainbowtribe@hotmail.com>

A festival will be held next year around the Murray River Region (N/VIC - S/NSW). As there some travellers that are receiving this update, (who have been to the Rainbow Gathering) may be travelling up that way. Land scouting involves detouring & looking/asking about properties & venturing out to view the property (if hitting a successful contact)

The Site Requirements are:

- 50-100 acres of accessible land by foot or car
- Road access
- Creek/water access

- Treed areas
- Non-fragile or environmentally sensitive

From this Update onwards we will be asking for travellers or volunteers to send info back to us via email or letter. Any questions, email me back

PROJECTS

NOW IS THE TIME TO SEND IN YOUR PROJECTS!

OK, what does that mean? It means that CLAN is looking for things to do! If you are in the midst, or have thought about living-on-the-land sustainably & find that with help you can make it happen, then send us a copy.

Either email your plans/projects/ideas to CLAN, or send them to 306 Smith Street Collingwood VIC 3065

EXAMPLES:

- Alternative Schools
 - Co-operative Businesses
 - Communities & Multiple Occupancies
 - Community Resource Spaces
 - Conservation & Wildlife Reserves
 - Eco-villages & cities
 - Health Retreats, Sanctuaries & Resorts
 - Organic/Permaculture Farms
 - Permaculture Institutes
 - Regenerated Bushland
 - Spiritual Retreats
 - Sustainable Technology Production
- other ideas not covered.

If you have an idea or project that is down on paper, send it to us. By sending in your info, our fundraising ventures can start!

I don't know how its coming along, it seems to get mired down in fairly minor points - like arguing about what domain name to put it on. As a result the site isn't up yet, so nothing is happening.

I think its really important that people take on subjects they know something about, or at least are gathering information from people who know something about it, the website will be valuable only because it gathers the very real - and diverse - experiences of people in communities. For example, I've been through 3 occasions where someone died in a community I was living in, the experience was totally different from the times where a friend or relative died, and I intend to submit something for the web site on this.

Subject: New Communities Directory in process

Mitra recommended I post this to the list:

Once every five years the Fellowship for Intentional Community in North America publishes a new version of the Communities Directory, rebuilt from the ground up. We have now begun work on the new version to be released in March of 2000.

We want to give as many intentional communities as possible the opportunity to list themselves in the Directory.

Some reasons to list in the Directory:

- o Stand up and be counted -- let the world know that communities like yours exist.

- o Describe your community so that you can attract new members.

- o Let forming groups be inspired by your example; if you're open to helping new people get off to the right start it can save a lot on wheel inventing.

- o Raise the community flag so that other communities can network with you and exchange ideas and services.

Help us get the word out!

Existing or forming communities should contact us.

There are lots of places to make contributions.... don't be shy.

We'll start using the site as it is and develop / improve as we go...

The main thing is that we start exchanging info etc... doing something practical.

Hi folks,

One of our close partners in our work on Resilient Communities is the folks developing the Y2K Community Web Site. We think it is emerging as one of the best clearing houses on the web for what we're calling the "common sense common ground" around Y2K. Here's an announcement they asked us to pass on to you:

Good things have been happening at the Y2K Community Project Web site. Been by lately? Check out the site at <http://www.y2kcommunity.org>. And let us know what you think!

Y2K community organizing has really taken off in the US, and we have lots of new content to inspire and support your community efforts:

- Links to featured community Web sites: great sites that can provide you with detailed information, news of other communities, and examples of using the Web for community organizing work.
- References on community organizing techniques and tools.
- Abstracts of significant national initiatives in support of community organizing.
- Selected articles and links to significant writers on human systems theory and analysis, to help you broaden and deepen your understanding of Y2K--possibly humanity's most complex global socio-technological crisis ever.

[For those of you who may not yet be taking Y2K very seriously -- please don't give in to the temptation to dismiss it as being merely about a few people's urges to prophesy gloom and doom, or just about self-serving hype, or preparedness, survival, or some millenarian fantasy. It's

Having your own domain name is going to cost you about $30/month plus something like a $200 registration fee for the first two years, if you choose to do this, I can arrange it as cheaply as anyone can.

Having a user site off of ozemail or someone else is a little cheaper, maybe $20/month and no registration fee, but I don't see any advantage to having a URL of <http://www.ozemail.com/anica> than being <http://gen-oceania.com/anica>, the key thing is that we have a URL that can be circulated, and that the first page the user hits when they go to this URL is about us, not about GEN. Of course, there can be links to GEN, and PANCOM etc.

Typically in a case like this, we'd put a link on the front-page such as "Thanks to GEN for giving us space for our website" this makes it clear that we and GEN are two different organizations, and at the same time thanks GEN for giving us space.

Just like the mailing list message thanks Bayweb for giving us the mailing list for cheap.

Fellow communards,

Thanks Rob for your great work in getting our web site started and on time! I've talked with Rob about my concerns about "anica" being on the gen oceania overall web site and infact being sponsored by gen for the web site. I feel this situation would be confusing as people would not be clear about our relationship with gen. Similarly I would n't like our web page on pan communities council's page.

We have money left from the conference I'd like to suggest that we get an "independent" website.

Message from Rob with suggestions

<http://www.ozemail.com.au/~Intentional.Community/>

I just realised that we could establish this address by opening an e-mail account with the following address (for example).

Intentional.Community@ozemail.com.au

Simon, this is an example of what Telstra has to offer
try this link:

<<http://www.bigpond.com/Home/Rockpool/MYOW/PWS/>>

for big pond costs see:

<<http://www.bigpond.com/Home/Products/Access/>>

I rather like the ozemail option. What are everyone elses ideas, costing would be helpful.

The sampling program carried out show that the existing ponds are large enough for treating the future loadings to the level associated with oxidation ponds. There are several items which need upgrading:

- ◆ The embankments and dividing wall need rebuilding and compacting. The finished height of the embankments should ensure that overtopping does not occur. Discharge of effluent to the river during some flood conditions may be necessary. Environment Protection Authority requirements must be confirmed.
- ◆ The existing fence and gates need repairing to both upgrade their condition and
- ◆ The concrete spillways need to be renewed.

Pump Raw Sewage to Woodenbong

Design and construct a new sewage scheme to replace the existing common effluent drainage system. This would require a reticulation system (incorporating the existing pipeline where possible), new central pump station and a rising main to transfer raw sewage to the Woodenbong Sewage Treatment Works. Means to combat septicity in the rising main would be required. This may require augmentation of the Woodenbong Sewage Treatment Works.

This option would result in sewage rates being applied to Muli Muli. Council calculates sewage rates on as a shire wide average. They would need to be consulted as to whether or not this rating structure would also apply to Muli Muli.

The rating structure is as follows:

- ◆ $168 per service
- ◆ $0.88 per kilolitre of 40% of the total water usage.
- ◆

Pump Effluent to Woodenbong

Design and construct a new pump station and rising main to transfer the effluent to the Woodenbong Sewage Treatment Works for treatment. This may also require augmentation of the STW.

Council rates would also apply.

Howdy Ho Communards!

told myself earlier that if i didnt do this now, it may never happen.
 To the point - for me to seriously concieve a MiniLink (Mini Interlink) , Id have to get it out within the fortnight. ie 8th Nov. My aim for it was to have everyone said Gday and hows it goin? to. Also to inform all on whats happening on the NetWeb side of things and keep that sence of Enthusiasm & Empowerment alive.
 As suggested before, it may like to contain...

- #Light anicdotes, banter, NICC quotes, poem, picture (anyone?)
- #A call for Interlink submissions - ie Wshop summaries, articles (Gloria?)
- #NetWeb structure topics, subtopics, vollunteers, what next, who & how....(Russel?)
- #Email contact list (via Mitra)
- #Quest affirmation (You!)
- #International Chicken of the Month pin-up(um...Me!)
- [Simon....is that Openspace & Wshop draft for inclusion?]

I had in mind a 2 sided A4 folded in three, bit a tape, whack on an address and a stamp and cheerio...!!

Thoughts? Feelings? Energy? Im happy to recieve contribs and put it together. Any offers on photocopying, addressing, postage, posting, Web/Emailing???

26/10/98

Oh, and who is the Fall back crew? Simon? Ed?

Yall gotta week to RSVP OK!?! So, lets do it!!!!

As promised I've set up a mailing list for the people who signed up at the conference to say they were interested in assisting with networking.

To send mail to the list, send it to anica-networking@earth.path.net

Anyone who wants to get on or off the list can send mail to anica-networking-request@earth.path.net, which just goes to me.

At the moment the people on the list are:

Peter Hamilton
Nicole Killum
Eric Vigo
Dan Bakker
Munji North
Mitra
Peter Cuming
Simon Clough
Russell Anderson
Stephen Tracey
Robert Tap

I don't have email addresses for:
Colleen deWinton
Daniel Beaver
Kiri Sta - she doesn't have a phone.

There were addresses in the mailing list for Saskia Kouwenberg - Russel, can you find out the correct one please.

If there is anyone I missed, or anyone who doesn't want to be on the list, just let me know.

Hi Catherine,

Russel has the list of titles, and who signed up for them, he promised to get the list out by the end of October.

I'm presuming that one of the things we'll do on this list, is figure out exactly what each person needs to produce.

Either way, perhaps following up with a Post NICC Communique might empower & encourage the masses, not to mention reaffirm our quest I envisage a basic double-sided page, newsletter styled mailout to all who attended the NICC. A mini interlink if you will. It might include:

- *a few anicdotes, light banter, humourous NICC quotes (know any??)
- *a call for submissions , experiences, suggestions an Wshop summaries for Interlinks Magazine (got any??)
- *Mitrass address ammendments and Email contacts for the Networkers (I would find this handy about now)
- *a copy of the Network Web, topics, sub-topics, and names of those who signed up. I believe Russel is on to that. A brief 'what-next', how' & 'when' (also handy about now).

Otherwise, needing some attention is for us ,I believe, is to contemplate what we all think our 'roles' are ie. 'group maintenance', 'spirituality', 'legal'etc...and together come to an understanding of our positions.

Also, who took on the roles of 'fall-back'?

Anyway, please be in touch even if to confirm this mail arrived. I'm somewhat reluctant and a novice at this computer stuff.

Well, Ive had enough of this bloody machine ,so Im off.....

Northern Rivers - Intentional Communities

continuing the networking

It was great meeting with you all at the conference, I certainly found it useful to connect with people from other communities, to hear how they had faced many of the same issues that we had faced. At the conference, some of us thought it would be nice to continue networking after the conference, especially among those of us who are close enough to get together once in a while. What we decided was that once a month (last Sunday) we'd gather at a community to: get a tour; share a meal; and continue discussion on anything we want to.

I volunteered to host the first gathering at Mevlana (near Mullumbimby) on October 25th, and Kiri, will host the second at Gabalah (near Chillingham) on, November 29th.

For this month's gathering, to fit in with our community's rhythms I'm suggesting that people arrive around 11:30 to 12 noon. Sundays we have a brunch which starts about then. After brunch I can show people around the community - walk off some of the good food - and then we can meet either in the main house if it's free, or at my house.

To find us, take the Mullumbimby exit off the Pacific Highway (by Uncle Tom's Pies, the one with the BIG pelican on a stick), take the first left onto McAuley's Lane, wind through the woods for a few km, and then take the first left into Bilin Rd.

If you are coming from Nimbin/Channon area, then it's quicker (if you know the way, or have a map) to take the back road through Rosebank, Goonengerry etc to Mullumbimby, then just before you come into Mullumbimby, turn right before the golf-course. Then first left into the other end of McAuley's Lane, and first right onto Bilin Rd.

Bilin Rd dead-ends in our driveway, as you come onto the community you'll pass a small hall on the left, and then see a collection of houses on the left, and a big hall on the right. Brunch is in the big hall. If you are late, and want to come straight to my house, then pull into the carpark on the left by all the houses, as you face up the path between the houses, mine is the first one on the right.

If you can't find us - for example because we are on the tour, then call my mobile number 0414-648-722 from the phone in my house. My home number is 0266-844-096. Any of the residents will know where my house is, but I notice from our program that there are workshops booked into both halls that weekend, so there could be a lot of people walking around who haven't a clue who I am, even less where to find me.

I'm really looking forward to seeing as many of you as possible, and showing you around our place.

- Mitra

P.S. If anyone can't make it, or wants to come down another time, then give me a call. Also, you are very welcome at the two parties happening here in October, the Libras have one on Friday 16th, and the Scorpions are putting together what should be a wild halloween (costume) cabaret & party on 31st October. Both parties start at about 8pm. There is usually a cover charge of about $5, and if you want dinner (beforehand at about 7pm) you need to book on 6684-3606.

Hopefully this reaches all of the "National Intentional Communities Association" people.

Is that all it cost $30. Is there any other running costs - per month or a yearly subscription ??

All the best

As we discussed, I've created a new mailing list as a main contact point and discussion area.

Its anica@bayweb.com.au

I'll add each of you to the list, so you should get a welcome message from the list, that will also contain instructions for how to get off the list.

Next step is to announce it to everyone else who was at the conference, but I won't automatically add them to the list, but will leave people to do that themselves.

- Mitra

P.S. The welcome message you will get is a draft, it can be changed at any time if we think it should say something different.

P.P.S. Robert - this will have cost me $30 to setup.
