SECTION 1223A-10. (a) DEFINITION OF "DRAFT DEVELOPMENTAL CONTROL PLAN" REQUIRED FOR SHARING OF WILDLIFE
(b) DEFINITION OF "DRAFT DEVELOPMENTAL CONTROL PLAN" REQUIRED FOR SHARING OF WILDLIFE

For purposes of this chapter, the term "draft developmental control plan" means a plan that is developed by a landowner or a person acting on behalf of a landowner and that is submitted to the Secretary of the Interior for review and approval. The plan must include a description of the proposed development, a description of the wildlife resources on the land, and a description of the measures that will be taken to protect and enhance the wildlife resources.

The plan must also include a description of the measures that will be taken to protect and enhance the wildlife resources. The plan must be developed in accordance with the requirements of this section and must be approved by the Secretary of the Interior before any development is undertaken on the land.

Any plan that is approved by the Secretary of the Interior under this section shall be subject to the same conditions and restrictions as if it were a final plan. The Secretary of the Interior may, at any time, require the landowner to submit additional information or to revise the plan.

The Secretary of the Interior may, at any time, require the landowner to submit additional information or to revise the plan. The Secretary of the Interior may also require the landowner to submit a plan that is more restrictive than the plan that was approved. The Secretary of the Interior may also require the landowner to submit a plan that is less restrictive than the plan that was approved. The Secretary of the Interior may also require the landowner to submit a plan that is more restrictive than the plan that was approved.

Parfuma.

The first thing I noticed when I stepped out of the car was the smell of fresh air. It was a relief after being stuck in traffic for hours. The sun was shining brightly, and the birds were chirping in the trees. I took a deep breath and felt a sense of peace.

As I walked towards the park, I saw many people enjoying the day. Some were playing sports, while others were simply strolling. The children were laughing and running around. It was a beautiful scene, and I felt like I had found a hidden gem.

The park was well-maintained, with clean paths and lush greenery. There were several benches where people were sitting and talking. The sound of water from a nearby fountain added to the pleasant atmosphere. I decided to take a walk around the park and enjoy the view.

I saw a group of people playing a game of tennis. They were all dressed in athletic wear and seemed to be having a good time. I watched them for a while and then decided to join in. I had never played tennis before, but I was determined to give it a try.

The tennis court was a beautiful green color, and the net was white. I was paired up with a woman who was also a beginner. We both laughed and talked as we played. It was a fun experience, and I felt like I had found a new hobby.

After playing tennis, I decided to take a walk along the lake. The water was calm, and the trees reflected in it. I saw a few ducks swimming in the water, and a few people were fishing. It was a peaceful scene, and I felt like I had found a perfect spot to relax.

I sat on a bench and watched the people around me. They were all smiling and enjoying the day. I felt a sense of happiness and contentment. I had found a place where I could relax and enjoy the simple things in life.
